

We invite: Scientists, Researchers, Entrepreneurs

INNO TECH EXPO

The 2nd International Expo of Innovativeness and New Technologies
16 - 17 October 2014

Poland's most innovative event.

Thematic scope

- research and development - graphene, artificial intelligence, 3D printers, robotics, et.al
- IT & business - e-commerce, virtualization, mobile equipment, et.al
- entertainment - computer games, mapping, smart TV, et.al

Accompanying events

- B2b meetings
- NANO PL 2014 conference
- workshops
- The Lights Festival

Inno-Tech Expo - where business meets science

Where?

Address:

Targi Kielce,
Zakladowa 1 Street,
Kielce Poland

KeySpeakers:

Krzysztof Kurzydłowski, Prof., Director, National Center for Research and Development

Rodrigo Martins, Prof., Vice-President, European Materials Society,

Alex Dommann, PhD, EMPA, Head of Department 'Materials meet Life', Switzerland,

Geneviève Pourroy, Prof., Director of research CNRS, IPCMS - Department of Inorganic Materials Chemistry (DCMI)

Beat Loeffler, PhD, President, CLINAM - Clinical Nanomedicine Association

Hans Fecht, Prof., Institute of Micro and Nano Materials, University of Ulm, Germany

Leszek Stobiński, Prof., Owner, Nanomaterials Ltd

Zdzisław Polański, Owner, Arso Polański Ltd

Dariusz Smoleń, CEO & President, NanoVelos LTD.

Nanovelos is a new bio-medical start-up founded by GIZA Polish Ventures VC.

Artur Kowalik, PhD, Department of Molecular Diagnostics, HolyCross Cancer Center

Marek Godlewski, Prof, Institute of Physics, PAS

Tomasz Kowalczyk, PhD, Institute of Fundamental Technology Problems, Warsaw, Poland;

Ludmila Lipińska, PhD, Institute for Electronic Materials Technology, Warsaw, Poland

Andrzej Maicher, PhD., Institute of Sustainable Technologies, Warsaw, Poland

Helmut Schmid, PhD, Head Nanotechnology Special Branch,

Fraunhofer-Institute Chemical Technology

Cristina Leonelli, Prof., Universita' degli Studi di Modena e Reggio Emilia,

President of AMPERE: Association for Microwave Power in Europe for Research and Education, Italy

Giancarlo Cavotto, Prof., Director of the Department of Drug Science and Technology,

University of Torino, Italy. President of the European Society of Sonochemistry (ESS)

Roman Pielaszek, PhD, Pielaszek Research Ltd.,

Sławomir Dudziński, Elo Serwis, Warszawa, Poland

Krzysztof Hodor, NETZSCH Instrumenty Sp.z.o.o, Kraków, Poland

NanoPL 2014

'Nanotechnology and Advanced Materials for Innovative Industry'

15 - 17 October 2014, INNO TECH EXPO 2014 Kielce, POLAND

Abstracts Deadline: 30 June 2014*

Website: <http://nanopl.labnano.pl>

Registration: <https://science24.com/event/nanoPL2014/login>

Conference rationale: Almost every week new nanotechnology-based ideas, products and solutions appear on the market. The aim of this event is to introduce industry to those new nanotechnologies with the potential to make them competitive in a global market place.

Programme: Nanomaterials, nanomedicine, nanobiotech, graphene production and applications, nano diamond and nanocarbon, tools for the production of nanomaterials, prospective research directions, and advanced materials technology.

Schedule:

Wed 15 Oct: Sightseeing tour "Business opportunities and attractions in Swietokrzyskie region" – numbers limited.

Thu 16 October: Nanomaterials, nano tools.

Fri 17 October: Nanomedicine, nanobiotech, nanocarbons, graphene and nanodiamonds.

Formula: Equal representation of business and academia. Invited lectures, short communications, posters and exhibition. Coordination and synergy with InnoTech Fair, Organisers: Institute of High Pressure Physics, PAS, Faculty of Materials Science, Warsaw University of Technology, Świętokrzyskie Regional Centre for Innovation and Technology Transfer Ltd.. The event is endorsed by the National Centre for Research and Development and the European Materials Research Society E-MRS. Honorary patronage of prof. Jerzy Kącki, DSc, Eng., President of the Board of National Center for Research and Development is gratefully acknowledged.

Note: The 2014 conference is being held in Kielce to connect with Inno-Tech, the international technology fair, ensuring an even closer connection with industry and investors.

 Presentations are invited from individuals to present their near-market nanotechnology and advanced materials achievements.*
