Call for Papers
March 2009

The “Jaszowiec” meetings have become, through many years of evolution, the traditional place of annual review of current achievements in semiconductor physics.

Overviews are presented by outstanding researchers (selected and invited by the Advisory and Program Committees) in a series of plenary morning lectures. The contributed papers of the conference attendees are presented in the form of oral and poster presentations during afternoon and evening sessions.

Remote location of the meeting and a daily time schedule with late afternoons free of lectures make an atmosphere of a fruitful workshop, additionally strengthened by many social events.

Official language of conference is English.

The School and Conference will take place in Krynica-Zdrój, a beautiful mountain resort in south of Poland, on June 19-26. The Conference (June 22-26, Monday to Friday, preferred arrival on Sunday evening, June 21st) will be preceded by the School, i.e. Special Tutorial Session (June 20-21, Saturday to Sunday, preferred arrival on Friday evening, June 19th). The registration office will be open since Friday, June 19th, 16:00, in Hotel Motyl, ul. Leśna 1, 33-380 Krynica-Zdrój.

Participants who need Polish visa are kindly asked to contact Conference Secretary for the Invitation Letter.
