In conclusion:

The match between inter-soliton distance at the end of the ramp and phase coherence length at long times shows that the equilibrium phase fluctuations occur as transformed remnants of solitons formed by the KZM in this scheme of evaporative cooling.